HOLSTEIN DAIRY CIRCUIT FOR
BURLEIGH COUNTY ORGANIZED;
TEN FARMERS SIGN AGREEMENT

Meeting Held in This City Yesterday Results in Successful Launching of Dairying Industry—Second Meeting to Be Held on October 1 at Which Time Superintendent Will Be Employed—Membership Limit to Be Twenty-six.

The Bismarck Holstein Dairy Circuit is assured. Ten farmers living in the vicinity of Bismarck in Burleigh county have signed an agreement which makes possible the organization. A second meeting will be held here October 1 to complete the permanent organization of the circuit.

At the conclusion of an all-day meeting yesterday, at which 36 dairy herds were represented, the sentiment for the organization of the circuit crystallized into the signing of the organization papers.

The ten who agreed to join the organization are: Schneider Brothers, Louis Garske, George W. Hedrick, P. J. Heutenberg, J. J. Reid, Frank Paris, Wilbert Fields, P. M. Gosney, Edward Doppler, Geo. Malard.

Many of the farmers who had expected to be at the meeting were unable to be there because they were threshing. Some had already assured the agricultural committee of the Commercial club, which sounded out sentiment on the proposition, that they desired to help form the dairy circuit. The meeting, which opened here in the Commercial club yesterday morning, was called as a preliminary meeting, but sentiment which developed during the morning, at the Open Forum luncheon at the Grand Pacific Hotel at which business men of the city joined the farmers, and the afternoon meeting resulted in the forming of the organization. About 25 farmers are expected at the permanent organization meeting on Oct. 1. G. N. Keniston, secretary of the Commercial Club, was delegated to act as temporary secretary.

It was decided to have a circuit to cover as much of the country as is practicable, and to limit the membership to 25. It is planned to select at the next meeting permanent secretary, to arrange for the employment of a superintendent who shall visit the various herds, keep the pedigree and production records of every animal and generally aid in weeding out unproductive animals and improving the production capacity of the herds.

To Go Slowly
At the beginning no herd will be an all-Holstein herd. Most of the farmers who are going in the circuit now are making a number of cows. Each herd must, however, be headed by a Holstein sire. The sentiment of the farmers was that the dairying should progress steadily, without plunging, with the elimination of unprofitable cows and substitution of purebreds as the business develops.

The Commercial club dinner held in the Grand Pacific hotel was largely attended. C. L. Young, president of the club, presided. Speakers included Geo. Ritter, superintendent of the Flasher Holstein circuit; Max Morgan, livestock extension specialist, and E. J. Sawtell, one of the owners of a large Holstein herd near Flasher.

Judge W. L. Nuessle, of district court, has issued an order for the summons of petit jurors to serve in a special term beginning Wednesday, October 5. Forty-five jurors are summoned.

The October term was decided upon because the length of time taken during the summer in trying the J. W. Brinton case prevented the trial of many civil cases. BRUTAL MURDER
OF 3 REVEALED
BY YOUNG GIRL

Man, Wife and Daughter Found Dead in Bed; Child Seriously Wounded

NAIL STUDDED CLUB USED

Blood-stained Club and Finger Print Only Clues to Murderers

Dowagiac, Mich., Sept. 21.—A blood-stained club, nail studded, and a bloody finger print were the clues today by which local authorities hoped to clear up the murder of three persons and the serious injury of another, a child, in their home here.

William Monroe, his wife and their 17-year-old daughter, Neva, were found beaten to death with the club. In the same room was found Ardith Monroe, 10-year-old daughter, who had been beaten on the head until unconscious.

The little girl was made blind by the blows. Although her recovery is said to be doubtful officers hope she may be revived sufficiently to tell the story of the attacks.

The tragedy was discovered yesterday when Ardith's chum, Grace McKee entered the home after hearing Ardith moan. She found her playmate beside a bed in which lay the body of her sister. In other beds lay the body of the parents. A club into which nails had been driven was standing against the wall. On the wall nearby was a bloody finger print.

The interior of the home indicated no struggle and the bed-clothing was not disarranged, leading officials to believe the three had been killed as they slept.

The neighbors asserted the crime probably took place Saturday night as members of the Monroe family were last seen at that time. It is believed Ardith lay wounded on the floor nearly 60 hours before being discovered.

Authorities have been unable to establish a motive for the crime.

ROTARIANS IN MEETING TALK
CITY'S FUTURE

Discuss Methods by Which Bismarck Can Be Improved and Meet Future Demands

Each member of the Rotary club was named a member of the "Rotary city planning commission" today. During the regular weekly meeting President Burt Finney called on the club member present to express his views on some project that might be undertaken which would be of inestimable civic and economic value to the city 50 years hence.

Many ideas were expressed regarding the future development of the city, much stress being laid upon park development.

The speaker of the day was N. Roger Bayly, formerly connected with the Fort Worth, Texas, Record, and now contributor to various magazines. He told many incidents of his work in the newspaper field.

G. N. Keniston reported to the Rotarians the success of the meeting called here yesterday to organize a Holstein dairy circuit, at which 10 farmers signed to join in a circuit. The report was greeted with enthusiasm by the Rotarians as the dairy project in Burleigh county was launched by Rotarians when they made the trip of inspection to the New Salem circuit and took with them as guests many farmers of Burleigh county.

Mr. Brumard, of Douglas, N. D., was a guest.

NO CANDIDATES

STATE PAMPHLET

Publicity Booklet Will Carry Only Constitutional Amendments and Proposed Laws

BIDS RECEIVED FRIDAY

Emergency Board Removes Possible Stumbling Block in Way of Election

No candidates will be permitted to place statements in the publicity pamphlet to be issued before the recall election of October 28. Secretary of State Thomas Hall said today. Consideration of the constitutional provisions had shown that in the event of a special election only constitutional amendments, initiated or referred laws may be placed in the pamphlet. No statements of any kind will be permitted from the political organizations.

Bids are to be received on Friday for the printing of the pamphlet, which is to be circulated to every voter in the state.

The state emergency commission decided to authorize the printing commission to print the pamphlet, the emergency commission to pay the bills from the $50,000 fund appropriated by the legislature for emergency measures. The action followed advice by the attorney general that the printing is legal.

Action regarding alleged frauds in the obtaining of signatures to recall petitions, if any, is not imminent. It was said by officials. A force of stenographers is now copying the names of the signatures, for publication.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

The resolutions of the emergency commission relating to this transfer of funds are as follows:

"Whereas, Senate Bill No. 25, being the general appropriation bill passed by the 1921 legislative assembly of the state of North Dakota when it was passed by each body of the legislative assembly contained in it a provision in the sum of $10,000 for the expense of publishing the state publicity pamphlet and for postage in connection therewith; and

"Whereas, this provision apparently through error was omitted from the enrolled bill which was delivered to Governor Frazier and approved by him; be it therefore:

"Resolved, that the emergency commission upon the presentation of an itemized, verified petition by Secretary of State Thomas Hall, authorize the transferring from the emergency fund to the fund for the purpose of public printing by the secretary of state for the payment of the expense of the publicity pamphlet and the publicity pamphlet postage in connection with the recall election of October 28, 1921, a sum sufficient to pay such expense not to exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

SAYS HE FINDS DUPLICATION

Duplication of many signatures to recall petitions have been found by the force checking the 74,000 names, according to W. A. Anderson, assistant attorney-general.

"They have found that a lot of people signed several petitions," said Mr. Anderson regarding checking of the list. "This is the only irregularity thus far found. We are unable to tell from the signatures whether or not the signers are legal voters. We have had charges made that children signed some of the petitions."

Mr. Anderson declined to say whether or not any action would be taken to block the recall election, saying it was a matter for Attorney General Loken who is out of the city to act upon. Chairman Lieberbach of the Nonpartisan state committee has been quoted as saying that he knew of no movement to stop the election.

Capitol officials generally were marking time today. Governor Frazier, who had been asked to speak in Minnesota this week, decided to remain in his office for some days before embarking upon a speaking tour.

School children returning home found the overturned car two hours and a half after the accident happened and it was another half hour before help could be summoned. Swanberg, who is survived by a widow and four children, he operated a 400-acre farm 20 miles southwest of Mandan. Nord will recover. He was severely bruised and terribly shaken by his horrible experience.

Attorney-General Says Searching Investigation of Organization Will Be Made

RESOLUTION IN CONGRESS

Washington, Sept. 21.—Information in the hands of the department of justice as to the activities of the Ku Klux Klan was laid before President Harding today by Attorney-General Daugherty after the latter had conferred with Director Burns of the department's bureau of investigation.

Federal action against the organization, according to Mr. Daugherty, could be probably under some statute covering conspiracy. He made clear however that on its face the literature of the clan was not in violation of the law and what was to be determined was what went on behind the scenes. The activities of the organization, he emphasized, would be given the most careful consideration before any federal policy was determined.

An investigation of the Ku Klux Klan is already proposed by Representative Tamm, Democrat, Massachusetts, in a resolution which he prepared and expects to introduce today. In the preamble he asserts the organization is "anti-American" and that its objects and purposes are the "extirpation and oppression of persons and members of certain races and certain religious sects."

Disaster Occurs in District Along Rhine Built up During War

MANY CITIES FEEL FORCE

Inhabitants in Cities 15 Miles Away Are Shaken by Explosion

Mayence, Germany, Sept. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eight hundred persons are reported to have been killed and many injured by explosions in the Badische Anilinfabrik works at Oppau.

Occurs in Laboratory
The disaster appears to have been one of the most terrible in the history of industrial catastrophes.

The first explosion occurred when the shifts were being changed at 7:45 a. m. in a laboratory where 800 men were working. All of these are reported killed.

This explosion was followed in rapid succession by others, which rendered assistance to the first victims impossible. The concussions were so terrific that they were felt in this city some 35 miles from the scene, while at Mannheim, 14 miles away, almost every window was shattered and several persons were killed and 36 others injured by debris.

Killed Miles Away
Some persons were killed at Ludwigshafen across the Rhine from Mannheim. Many roofs were blown off houses and all the windows in the town were broken at Worms while Oppau itself nothing remains but ruins.

The shock was felt as far as Frankfurt, more than 40 miles away, and many windows were broken there. The whole district was enveloped in thick smoke which together with the cutting of telephone and telegraph communication hampered efforts at assistance.

Reports from the scene variously describe the disaster as due to the explosion of a gas or spirits tank.

Paris, France, Sept. 21.—One thousand persons are reported to have been killed and several thousand others injured at Oppau near Frankenthal in the Rhine Palatinate through explosions in a chemical products plant, according to a Mayence message to the Havas received here today.

Town of Oppau itself was entirely destroyed by the explosion the advisers state.

The force of the shocks was felt for a distance of nearly 15 miles around. In Mannheim one person was killed and about 50 injured.

The cause of the catastrophe is not known.

The region in the Rhine Palatinate where today's disastrous explosion occurred was developing during the war into one of the most extensive and productive of Germany's chemical munitions supply districts. Oppau itself is a comparatively small town with only a few thousand people but nearby are Frankenthal, a considerably larger place and Ludwigshafen, which has a population of some 75,000 and which during the war was accounted the largest of the German chemical manufacturing plants for war purposes. The chemical works there are still on a vast scale.

It is about seven miles southeast of Frankenthal and directly across the Rhine from Mannheim. During the war the region was frequently bombarded by allied armies. Ludwigshafen being their particular target.

WOOD SAYS HE WILL QUIT IF LAWS ARE VOTED

Fargo, Sept. 21.—Lieutenant Governor Howard R. Wood last evening told the Women's Nonpartisan club of Fargo that if the I. V. A. initiated measures were approved by the voters in the recall election on October 28, he will resign his office. This statement was made in the course of an address which he delivered before the club at the regular meeting.

"When the votes have been counted and the result announced by the canvassing board, if it is found that the I. V. A. initiated laws have been approved by the people I will resign," said the lieutenant governor. "I have twice been elected to the office of the Nonpartisan League program and that is the only reason why I have accepted such office. I believe in this program and have done, and will do everything I can to put it into successful operation. But I am convinced that the approval of these laws will mean the complete scrapping of it and nothing else."

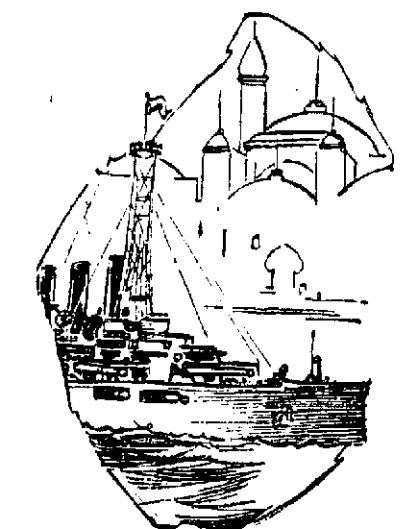

GREEKS CONTROL TURK TRADE

Live in Peace With Neighbors in Constantinople While War Rages

BARRED FROM MOSQUE

Turkish Soldiers Refuse To Permit Them To Enter Edifice of St. Sophia

BY MILTON BRONNER
Constantinople, Sept. 21.—Though Greeks and Turks are at war with each other not many miles from here, in the capital they work and live side by side.
There probably never was a more peculiar situation or a stranger war in all history. After the armistice, thanks to the clever diplomacy of Venizelos, then prime minister of Greece, that country was given by the peace treaties great chunks of Turkish territory in Europe, which brought the Greek borders up very close to Constantinople itself.
They were also practically given the city of Smyrna and the surrounding territory in Asia Minor.
But the Turks of Anatolia under Komal Pasha revolted against the allied decisions and started a war, at the same time disowning their own government in Constantinople, which was unable to move because it sat as it were under the frowning guns of the allied battleships in the Bosphorus.

As soon as King Constantine came back to the throne of Greece, from which he had been exiled, the war began in earnest and up to now the Greeks have been uniformly successful in Asia Minor.

As the allies from Bulgaria on the way to Constantinople the train goes through the new Greek territory.
It is full of soldiers and they could undoubtedly march the short distance and take this city from the Turks—if it were not for the veto of the allies.

While the allies have told the Greeks to keep hands off here, they have also proclaimed their neutrality in the war now going on.

However, the Turks say it is a top-sided sort of neutrality. They assert that right here in the Turkish capital Greek vessels are allowed to come, secure supplies, and convey them to Asia Minor for the Greek armies well knowing that the Turks have no navy which can attack them and that the allies will wink at the whole proceeding.
There is no doubt but that if they dared risk the allies' wrath, the Greeks would seek to take Constantinople and make it the capital of their new empire.

Meanwhile the Greeks largely control Turkish commerce.

Greeks largely predominate in the section of the great city known as Pera and Galata, while the Turks predominate in Stamboul.

The only indication of animosity that the Turks have displayed is in connection with the great mosque of St. Sophia. This wonderful building is the third church built on the site originally selected by Constantine the Great when he reigned in Constantinople. It dates back to 537 and was a Greek Catholic church.

Since the Turks conquered and entered the city in 1453, it has been one of the greatest mosques in the world and a Mohammedan holy place. At present any unbeliever may enter, provided he is neither a Greek nor an American! Turkish soldiers, armed with businesslike bayonets, stand at the portals to guard against such "desecration" by people they loathe.

What Is The Price Of Success? Mrs. Calhoun Reveals

Movies and morals are being discussed everywhere as a result of the Arbuckle case. What price must a girl pay for a movie career? people ask. The question is answered in this series of articles written especially for the Tribune by Mrs. Florence Calhoun, mother of Alice Calhoun, the Vitagraph star who in five years has risen from a $5-a-day extra to a $1000-a-week performer.

BY FLORENCE CALHOUN
Mother of Alice Calhoun, Vitagraph Star, the Youngest in the Movies

"What will assure success in film-land?"
Whoever has attained stardom expects to receive this question in every mail.

There is but one answer to it, a brief one, often an unwelcome one, because many immature but ardent fans see a film heroine only as an exquisite creature, flitting daintily through thrilling love scenes in charming environments.
And it all looks so extremely easy! A little grooming, a few fine clothes—and an opportunity! Only that and nothing more!

That it took work of the hardest kind, the work of scores of capable, energetic men and women to produce the effect of easy smoothness, is often outside the comprehension of the uninitiated.

I often have insisted that after health, without which hard work is absolutely impossible, the supreme moral of the movies is the courage, inclination and ability to work hard.

But I have never observed that work which is regarded as nothing but drudgery brings the best results. Beauty is the soul of art, they say, and to produce any beauty, joy in the work must animate the soul of the artist.

In screen art, the actress who succeeds for herself succeeds also for those who work with her.

I fancy more than one star has reminded herself, "I must make this film as fine as I can, not only for my own reputation but also for my producer, and for my director, and the cast and the extras, and for the electricians and the decorators and the carpenters; yes, even to the prop boy who fetches and carries. I am pledged to make this film the best I have ever done."

And then one must have a little private and personal pride in doing one's best, whether anybody else knows it or not.

Success in showland, as elsewhere, means self-sacrifice. An unfortunate few have tried to achieve success by that sort of self-sacrifice which spells ruin.

The world values one as one values herself. The movie audience likes to see virtue triumph in the end; and the virtuous actor or actress will triumph in his own career, for that fundamental reason.

Besides the morals already discussed there is the social morale, which comes so close to morals. Of the relation of movie stars to "society" I will write in the next article.

AT THE MOVIES

"DECEPTION"

Distinguished by splendor of appointments, pomp and majesty and a dramatic story of signal merit, "Deception," a superb Paramount picture, which will be displayed at the Eltinge, today and tomorrow, is a veritable screen masterpiece, said to surpass any picture production presented to the American picture-going public in many years.

Dealing with the love romance of Anne Boleyn, the second wife of King Henry VIII of England, "Deception" has a dramatic and appealing story that will strike a human chord of sympathy in every American picture audience. The mother love exhibited by this woman whose beauty won her a throne, has its direct appeal to the heart and every woman will respond to it. Henry Doren, a famous European screen player, casts the role of Anne Boleyn with a majesty and force that is unsurpassed in the silent drama.

The part of King Henry's protegee, with its artistic value, is played by Elsie Ferguson, who in "The Sign of the Cross" made her name in Europe. The character of the

AT BISMARCK

As a female detective who engages in the novel occupation of rescuing runaway nudes from designing and unacceptable women, Viola Dana scored again in "The Match Breaker," a Lubitsch M. Fitzgerald production, at the Bismarck theater.

Miss Dana is at her best in such a picture as it gives her every opportunity to exercise to the full that vivacity and characterization for which she is noted. The story itself is away from the beaten path of the usual movie entertainment and is staged in a way to keep the audience in suspense until the last scene.

In the role of Jane Morgan, Miss Dana plays the part of a girl who, successful in stealing other girls' sweethearts, starts into make that her professional calling. Her first case involves her in untangling the mix-up of a father and son and in unearthing the schemes of the designing females some extremely interesting problems are created.

AT THE REX

History repeats itself!
It is only natural for the Thomas H. Ince who has given to the screen "Civilization," "The Flame of the Yukon," "Hell's Hinges," "Behind the Door," and a score of other cinema epics, to continue his dynamic energy and original and powerful creative ability.

The clever producer, who is a regular machine gun when it comes to repeating dramatic triumphs, has "gone and done it again," the latest bulls-eye being registered by "Lying Lips," his second special for the Associated Producers, which will be presented at the Rex Theater today and Thursday.

The drama concerns favorably with anything Ince has ever produced, and, of course, is superior to many of the never-to-be-forgotten old timers, in that it has been garnished with the last word in production methods—superbly beautiful photography, magnificent stage settings, delicate as well as vivid lighting effects, and the many other advantages that the modern film holds over its counterpart of five years ago, or even five months past.

PROHIBITION MEET

Chicago, Sept. 21.—A call was issued today for a meeting of the Prohibition National Committee for this city on November 30. The call states further:

Why People With Weak Nerves and Thin Blood So Often Fail in Life and are trampled down by strong, keen, red-blooded men with nerves of steel.

Without strong nerves you lose your magnetism, force and courage. You feel your own weakness and others know that you are weak. Trifling things annoy you—this is a sure sign of nerve exhaustion.

Some people are born with a very small amount of nerve-vital fluid, because their nerve force has been squandered by the lives lead by their ancestors. Others use up their nerve force faster than the body can make it.

When your nerve force becomes weakened, all the vital organs of your body lose their normal strength and vigor and as a result, all kinds of alarming symptoms may appear. From the pains across the back, one person thinks he has kidney trouble; another may think his spine is injured because of the tender spots which may occur thereon. The dull heavy pain in the lower part of head leads another to think he is going to have a paroxysm and from the disagreeable nervous pressure in the front of the head another feels he is going to have a stroke. Headache, sleeplessness and nervous irritability, heart palpitation and indigestion are very common symptoms. Naturally your strength is weakened, and your energy power is sapped and weakened, and as a result you are unable to compete with the strong, keen and blooded man with nerves of steel. When you lack nerve force, there is only one thing that is going to help you—and that is more nerve force. In such cases more stimulating medicines and narcotic drugs are often worse than useless; what you must have is something to furnish an increased supply of the nerve-vital fluid to your nerve cells. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed both blood and a nerve food as it feeds strength, giving iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredient of active living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells.

Over four million people are using Nuxated Iron annually. From the remarkably beneficial results which it has produced, the manufacturers feel so certain of its efficacy that they guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser of it who will follow our money. COMPLAIN CITY OFFICIALS FAIL TO ENFORCE LAW

Chicago Law and Order League Asks Congress to Take a Hand There

3,500 "BARS" IN THE CITY

National Government Asked to Pass Law to Compel Officials to Obey Oaths

Chicago, Sept. 21.—An appeal to congress to enact a law to compel city officials to obey their oaths of office in enforcing the 18th Amendment has been made in the form of a resolution passed by the Chicago Law and Order League with assurance that it will be brought up in Congress during the next few days.

The resolution, after asserting that while Mayor Thompson of this city has announced that all of his appointees have been instructed to enforce the law, states that there are not less than 3,500 "dry bars" in the city of Chicago where intoxicating liquor is sold "and the principal offenders in permitting this situation to continue are the Mayor of Chicago and the General Superintendent of Police."

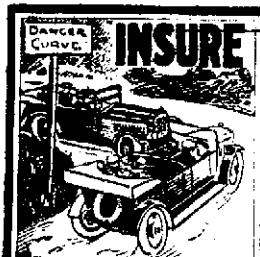

The resolution states that Chief of Police Fitzmorris of Chicago stated before witnesses that "as long as the government allows intoxicating liquor to be shipped into Chicago I will not mop it up."

Mayor Criticized

The resolution then continues: "Now, when the mayor of Chicago and his general superintendent of police take the position that we have shown to you that they have taken, and the conditions as to the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor in Chicago are very bad, and when the mayor and Chief of police have under the 3,000 policemen, we believe that the time has come in the history of this government to find out whether there is not a law that will reach officials of a great city like Chicago, who practically nullify the 18th Amendment to the constitution. The time has come when the government of the United States, if there is no law to compel the officials to obey their oaths of office, ought to enact such a law and we appeal to the Senate and House at Washington and ask that, if necessary, a law be passed to cover such cases as this."

"One of the dangers to the permanency of this great republic is that in the great cities lawlessness prevails, the constitution is disobeyed, and what may be the result? A great country may go down from the vice and lawlessness and devilry of the great cities."

The resolution was proposed by Arthur Burnage Farwell, president of the Chicago Law and Order League and copies sent to both the Vice-

War Mothers Held Meeting Yesterday

The regular meeting of the Fort Lincoln Chapter of American War Mothers was held at the Legion hall yesterday afternoon. A number of important issues were brought up and voted on at this meeting. The members decided at the meeting yesterday to hold a rummage sale the first week in October.

The War Mothers voted to co-operate with the American Legion and the American Red Cross in locating soldiers, disabled in the war, preparatory to the coming of the Clean-Up Squad which will be in Bismarck the first part of October. They also voted to make a donation to help buy delicacies for men in the Service Hospital at Fox Hill, New York. It was decided that a contribution be made to the work of a hospital at Oregon, that the Oregon State War Mothers have endowed.

The War Mothers are also preparing a barrel of fruit to be sent to the Florence Crittendon Home at Fargo. All members of the organization are asked to contribute to this barrel, and to bring their contributions to the William Cashman home, 516 Ninth street, as soon as possible, for it is necessary to send the fruit before the cold weather comes.

At the meeting yesterday it was disclosed that North Dakota ranks fourth in the United States in War Mother membership.

EVERY SHAPE IS GOOD IN HATS!

BY MARIAN HALE.

New York, Sept. 21.—One thing congoing about the coming season's hats is their shape.

Every shape is good. Never has the hat line been so extensive.

Wherever you see one of those exaggerated extreme French shapes you are sure to glimpse, near by, a straight-lined sailor shape or a big simple-lined ingenue effect.

A French hat, which bears all the simple lines of youth and which is not extreme, is a Lewis model of black velvet trimmed in black moire ribbon. Two saucy cockades on each side are the only ornaments, but the hat is chic to the last letter of the word.

Attend Funeral of Bishop O'Gorman

Bishop Wehrle left last evening for Sioux Falls, S. D., where he will attend the funeral of the late Bishop Thomas O'Gorman, which will be held in Sioux Falls tomorrow morning at ten o'clock from St. Joseph's Cathedral.

Bishop O'Gorman, who was senior bishop of the Archdiocese of St. Paul, had been in poor health for some time. Death followed a stroke of paralysis from which he failed to rally.

He survived by three years, almost to the day, the death of Archbishop Ireland, his lifelong friend. His physical breakdown, in fact, dates from the latter's demise, which he felt very deeply.

He was ordained priest in 1865 and was the first pastor of St. Thomas College, which was founded in 1888.

Bishop O'Gorman was considered one of the most learned in the American Catholic church and was a widely known authority on church history. He was noted for a polished literary style, both in French and English.

The Cathedral of St. Joseph, dedicated at Sioux Falls two years ago, represents the climax of many years of effort and ambition on his part.

A MOTHER Who Forgot To Be A Wife

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

John's club had been giving a little party for the wives that evening. "Sure!" John had said, of course he was going, when the bunch of them spoke of it while they lunched together at noon.

"Get into your glad rags, Girl!" he called joyously to his wife as she rushed into the sitting room, going on with the story of the spread the boys had planned for the evening.

"But the children—" objected Girl. Stella was 16, but she didn't like to leave her with the other children, and then their clothes needed mending, and it she left so early in the evening they might not all get their ears perfectly clean before they went to bed.

John slumped down moodily in a corner of the divan and buried himself in his paper. Finally without a word he stalked out of the house. The only answer to the Girl's half frightened questions regarding his destination, was a banging of the door.

And after the ears were all washed and the braids all braided and the clothes all neatly hung away, the Girl went into the darkened front room and cried it out.

John didn't understand, she thought, it mazed her a little when she went back over the days and found that for four months straight she had refused every one of John's invitations for a good time.

But if she didn't mend John, Jr.'s stockings who would? And it she wasn't there with them every evening to see that all of the tangles were combed out and the faces scrubbed, who would see about it? There was just so much worrying and mending and fussing to be done for each child each day. And no matter what other duties she entrusted to paid help, she devoted her whole life to her children.

Which wouldn't have been so bad, if, in doing it, she hadn't forgotten that the man she married was in a sense one of them and needed to be included in her mothering.

The successful wife who is also a mother, has to make a fine and difficult division of her interests.

EVERYBODY'S WEARING YARN HATS—MAKE THIS ONE

Materials. Yarn, 3 balls of No. 1 silk, 1 spool of black No. 1. Four strings of black beads. One No. 1 bone crochet hook.

Instructions. Chain 4, join in ring. Make 21 d. c. in ring, ch. 1, but do not turn. 1 d. c. in next d. c. 1 d. c. around next d. c. 1 d. c. in each of the next 2 d. c. repeat from all around. Do not join but continue working as usual, making 2 d. c. around the d. c. of previous row which was worked in the same way and the 1 d. c. in top of each of the 2 d. c. in row below. This is the beginning of the 7-gore pattern in hat. The 2 d. c. are worked on top of the 2 d. c. on row below, increasing on the gore by making 2 d. c. around the first d. c. of gore each row, until there are 16 d. c. in each gore with 2 d. c. between. Then work 9 rows as before, but without increase.

Then work 5 rows of s. c. which determine the head size of hat; turn. The remainder of the hat is worked in honey-comb stitch with one thread of black silk for facing and one thread of yarn as follows:

Holding work side of work toward you, with the yarn make 1 s. c. on back half of each stitch around row. Join with slip stitch, ch. 1, turn. Leave yarn, and with the black silk work in s. c. taking up back half of stitch on the row just worked, also the one below, working them together as in regular s. c.; repeat all around, turn.

With yarn work next row same as last row; continue in this manner, making 7 rows of each color, joining each row with slip stitch. Begin to increase on every 11th stitch for 3 rows; increase with black put 2 sts. on 1 st. on next row with yarn, take the 2 sts. through the one of yarn, which makes both rows even. Increase on 11th stitch again on the black silk row.

Make 6 rows of each color and the last black silk row work over wire. The next, or last row, should be worked in same color as body of hat, crocheting in a bead every 4th stitch.

Fasten beads about three-fourths inch apart, down the stripes on crown of hat that are formed by the 2 d. c.

Make an ornament of loops of the beads, of different lengths, for side of hat.

The Ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a food sale at the Gas office on Saturday afternoon.

KEEP WITHIN YOUR MEANS

"She never goes beyond her means giving her parties," said her friend, and that is why we enjoy them so!"

Her last party was such a delightful affair. Every one liked it. She decorated her home with fall blossoms, goldenrod, asters and a number of others which grow wild in profusion at this time of the year. For a centerpiece she used a flat basket of fruits—all kinds of plums, peaches, apples, bananas.

Dinner was served at half after six at a table lighted with candles. In generous dishes which were passed from hand to hand were fried chicken, sweet potatoes, pickled peaches, jelly, hot biscuits. Stuffed tomatoes and corn pudding were served individually as was the floating island. The latter was in tall glasses and was topped with a cherry nested in the white.

The place cards were just ordinary cards with an aster, an especially large one, thrust through.

THE RIGHT STEP

Farmers of Burleigh county who met here and organized the Bismarck Holstein Dairy Circuit have taken a long step forward. Enough farmers have agreed to join the circuit to make it feasible, with a possibility of growth until it becomes the largest, and the youngest, dairy circuit in western North Dakota.

No time was wasted in getting down to business here. Many of those who signified their intention of entering into the circuit had investigated the subject of dairying and of dairy circuit organization thoroughly. Most of them now are caring for a large number of cows. They are going to put their individual energies into a business organization and hire expert help. The circuit ought to be a huge success.

The farmers came to the city and met in the Commercial club rooms. They are working in close cooperation with the agricultural committee of that organization. They joined Bismarck business men at luncheon, swapped stories and talked business.

No feature of the organization meeting is more commendable than this spirit of cooperation between the business men of the city and the business men of the country on a business proposition for the benefit of the entire community.

FULL STEAM AHEAD

Pessimism is contagious, often more so than optimism. A knock frequently travels faster than a word of praise.

Just now one may well turn to reports being received from all over the Slope country that, with early fall rains, farmers are getting ready for next year's production. They are hot spreading pessimism, but are taking off their coats and going ahead with confidence in the future. Their order is "full steam ahead."

It is a good example.

STRENGTH

In the Malden street police station, Boston, prisoner Earl W. Marks, 19 years old, hears that his baby is dead.

Frantic with grief, Marks tried to get out and join his wife in the hospital. He rips a chilled steel bar, one inch thick, out of the door of his cell, and is removing another when discovered.

He couldn't do that, except under violent emotion.

You have more strength in your will power and your emotions than in your muscles.

FROM POOR PARENTS

Italians all over the world are celebrating the 600th anniversary of the death of their countryman, Dante Alighieri, one of the greatest writers of all time.

Have you read Dante's "Inferno"? Maybe not. But years ago, when you were a boy, a book agent with a ball-bearing tongue probably sold a copy to your mother, and you may recall looking at the terrible pictures of sinners writhing in hell.

Dante, born of a poor family, put in a long time rolling pills in a small Italian drug store. His parents, without wealth, gave the world a treasure.

That should inspire poor people who wonder what the future will bring to their boy, just starting school.

Wealth and a home of luxury are not necessary for success of children. It's what's born in them, plus what their mothers teach them, that counts.

Aesop, greatest writer of fables, was a slave. Charles Dickens once toiled in a shoe factory. Shakespeare's father was a glove maker. The poet Keats was the son of a hostler.

James Watt, inventor of the steam engine, was the son of a small store-keeper who ended in bankruptcy.

Christopher Columbus, discoverer of America, was the son of a wool comber.

Benjamin Franklin's father was a candle maker. The locomotive was invented by George Stephenson, son of a coal-mine stoker.

So it goes in all countries.

Open an encyclopedia. For every famous person born to wealth, you'll find 100 born and raised in poverty.

Lincoln, born in a log cabin, from rail-splitter to president. Edison, a train boy. Rockefeller, a government economy action is rare enough to class bookkeeper. Irving Berlin, millionaire who invented ragtime from members, when he sang for meekles in New York's Chinatown.

It is the plain people that give the nation its great men of power and genius. The snobs may look down on them, but they are the real quality-people, the parents of the mighty and superior.

When a family gets rich, it usually runs to seed. The future of your children does not depend on how much money the old man packs in his wallet.

HEELS

Hippolyte Martinet, American, passes through Switzerland. He is walking around the world in his bare feet. That's the natural way to walk, and Hippolyte has no foot troubles.

Savages invented shoes for ornament. The heel was added to keep the feet from slipping in a stirrup. Soldiers set the styles, so all men adopted heels. Like most foolish things, once started, it couldn't be stopped.

If nature intended us to walk on shoe-heels, she'd made them out of bone or callus and grow them on our feet.

Heels, especially high French ones, throw the spine out of plumb and cause many aches and pains.

WOOD

Leonard Wood, given charge of the Philippine Islands, hasn't been sent to the bush leagues.

He is given command of our most important point of defense. For, now that the kaiser is wearing out bucksaws, the Pacific ocean is the center of international politics. And the Philippine group is the focus of naval strategy in the Pacific.

Corregidor Island, in Manila Bay, is to Uncle Sam what Gibraltar is to England, what the Rhine is to France, what the Pass of Thermopylae was to the ancient Spartans.

A good soldier has been sent to a good job.

JOBLESS

England takes care of her jobless. In the poorer parts of London, a man with a wife and six children gets as high as $22 a week as unemployment relief.

This often gives unemployed more pay than workers.

The relief is a fine thing. But unless England finds a lot of jobs, and finds them soon, the tax wheel will get so big that the taxpayers won't be able to turn it.

It's always the producers who support the non-producers.

SOUTH

The South, raising less cotton and more grain, will have a big surplus, especially of corn.

This is good for the South, but it's going to hurt the corn growers of the Middle West. It means lower prices.

Millions are hungry. Grain should bring good prices, with a market for all of it. Yet farmers talk of burning corn for fuel this winter. A lot of screws loose in our system of economics.

HOBBY

W. E. D. Stokes offers $250 reward for return of 40 peculiar watches stolen from him. He spent 10 years collecting them. Another fellow has 300 watches, and Stokes is jealous of him.

The collecting instinct asserts itself in every boy. It's human desire to accumulate—especially things that no one else has.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

MILLION A DAY CLERK WASTE

From 150,000 to 200,000 superfluous employees of the United States Government are always just on the point of being removed from the payrolls, but do not get quite over the edge. So it goes on from week to week and month to month.

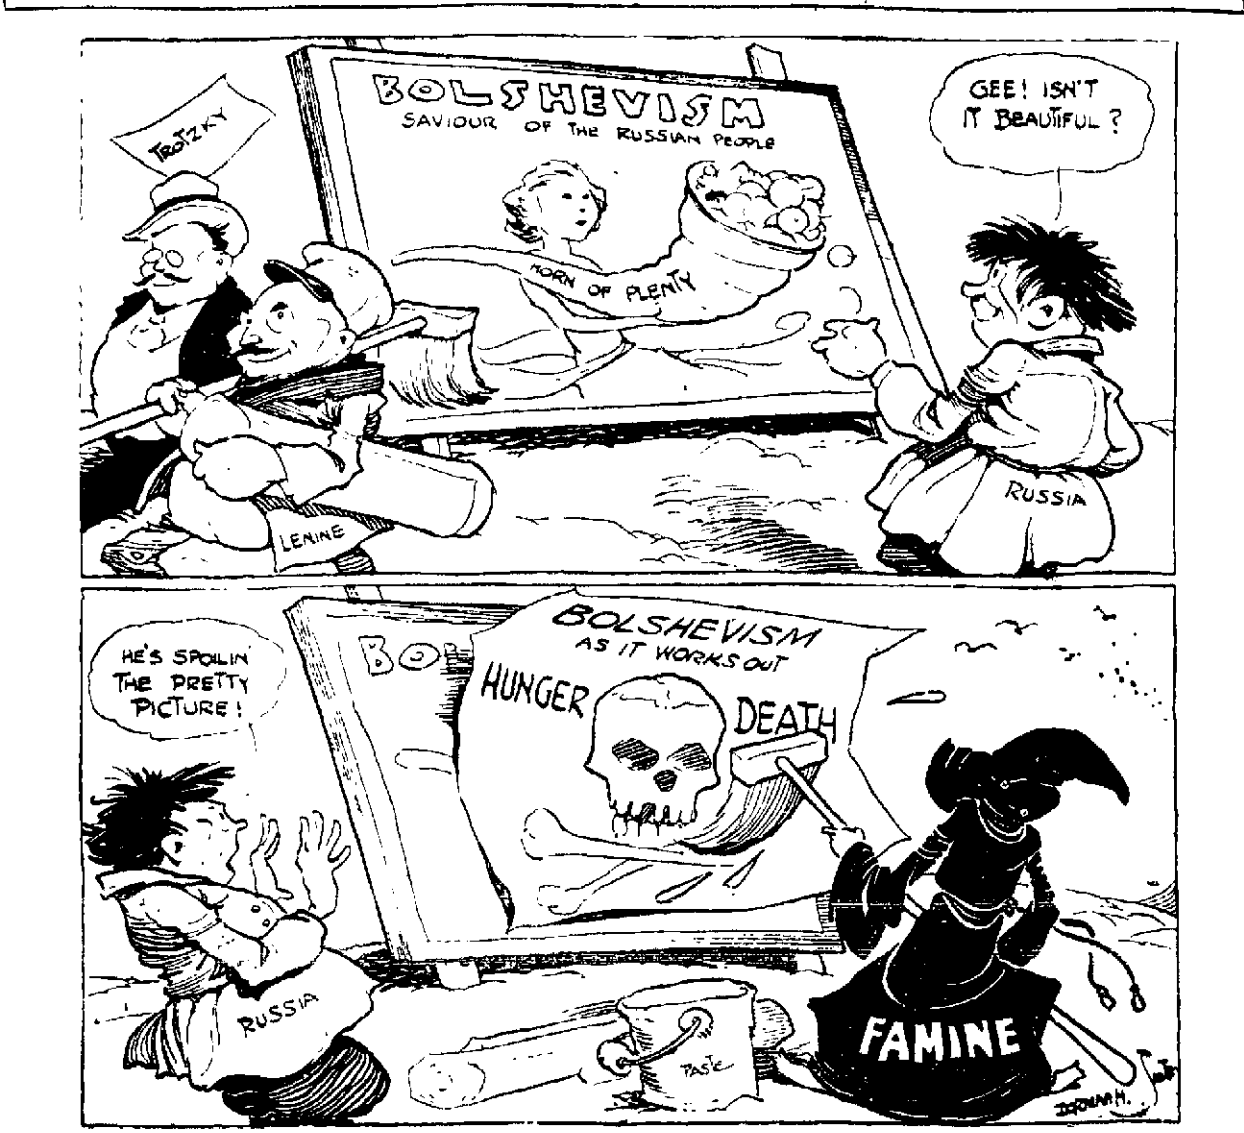

It takes a common sense private business two weeks to dispense with jobs that have no work for the job holders to do. It takes a government machine, trying to operate on a business basis but not knowing how to get down to brass tacks of it, anywhere from four months to four years to eliminate public jobs that have no excuse for existence.

At an average of $150 a month 200,000 needless names on the federal payrolls lift a million dollars a day out of the taxpayers pockets virtually every day in the year. This is approximately what the transportation tax directly and immediately costs the tax burdened American public. The shippers and receivers of freight, struggling under this load every day, know what such a tax means. The traveling public, handing over the tax at every passenger ticket office in the country, knows what it means. But all of it is only about enough to pay 200,000 useless employees.

Think what a colossal revenue machine is built on the tariff law and duty system. Yet thus far the maximum of custom receipts from tariff duties has averaged about $300,000,000 a year. Here again the whole of those tariff duties would be something short of enough to pay the salaries of government clerks and other employees whose services are not now needed and for the most part never have been needed.

Adopting government economy programs is one of the favorite amusements of public life. Getting to president. Edison, a train boy. Rockefeller, a government economy action is rare enough to class bookkeeper. Irving Berlin, millionaire who in-

A NEW SHOW ON THE ROAD

RECALL CAULDRON

(By the Pot Boiler)

What kind of a campaign will we have? Acrimonious to the fullest degree, a quiet, thoughtful attitude on the part of the voters or an attitude that "it's just the politicians fighting again and the public doesn't need to worry?"

With the excitement attending the filing of recall petitions and the firing of the opening guns of the campaign quieted down a bit, an old-time politician who has seen service in various political camps was discussing this phase.

"It'll be a quiet campaign," he said. "There will be spirit of enthusiasm and shouts on both sides and a lot of charges hurled back and forth. But the North Dakota voter has been through too much to join in old-time hand and red fire parades."

"Campaigns have been changing for a number of years," he continued. "When I was a boy back east a presidential election campaign was like the Fourth of July time. We always had big parades, with costumes and banners, bands, drum corps and red fire. Nowadays if there is a parade nearly everybody rides in an automobile and the noise of the loudest motor siren can't equal the hoarse shout of the old-time dyed-in-the-wool follower on foot."

It appears that there will not be any lack of speakers in the present campaign. The league says it will have 150 of them in the field. The I. V. A. probably will have as many. Close organization depends largely on volunteers in various communities. A volunteer organization that has the spirit in it is the best of all; without that spirit, it is a slow-going machine.

A. C. Townley, president of the National Nonpartisan league, visited Bismarck while returning to the Twin Cities from the west, where he had taken his wife for the benefit of her health. Townley met a few of the league's and is understood to have told them that he probably wouldn't be in North Dakota during the campaign.

Now that the publicity pamphlet matter is settled and many of the Nonpartisans asserting they welcome the campaign, there is nothing to keep the campaign from getting under way without any fear on the part of its engineers of obstacles on the track. It is generally believed in capitol circles.

Some of the I. V. A. supporters were jubilant over the decision of the emergency board in deciding to provide money for printing the pamphlet; others were a little sorry the Governor and Mr. Hagan voted with the Secretary of State—they thought it would be bad politics to refuse the money.

The publicity pamphlet will carry the full text of the proposed constitutional amendments and the initiated laws into the hands of every voter in the state. It will relieve the Joint Campaign Committee of a lot of expense.

On the other hand a local league lawyer asserts that as soon as the constitutional amendments and initiated laws are in the hands of the voters, numerous "jokers" in them

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Away off in the bay, Mr. Fisherman stretched his net. There it floated beneath the waves, securely fastened at the corners to big pound poles driven down into the sand at the bottom of the water.

Every morning he took out the net and every night he brought it in. In the morning he would hook it into place under the water so cunningly that the people in the Land of the Wiggles never suspected it was there and would swim right into its entangling folds. At night he would gather it in, with its slipping burden, return to shore, and sort his catch according to weight, size, and kind, and sell it to market people.

After a time the Wiggles got to know this, at least all the daddies and mothers knew, and all the little Wiggles had been warned over and over to keep away from the bay and the pound-poles, as repeatedly as (little Cottontail had been warned by his parents to beware of Reddy Fox in Helter Skelter Land. But there

Those received up to noon today from some of the teams were encouraging. It is appreciated, of course, that the general financial stringency makes this not the most opportune time for putting on a drive, but the amount needed is comparatively small considering the magnitude of the enterprise. Subscriptions aside in smaller amounts that if conditions were better, should reach the goal if enough give as they are able.

FOURTY NON-RESIDENT PUPILS

About forty non-resident pupils are enrolled this year at the Mandan high school and under the new law the Mandan school district is entitled to charge tuition of $1.50 per week. This however, is charged not to the individual pupil who is a resident of the state but is chargeable to the school district from which the pupils come. This applies of course only to residents of North Dakota, those from out of the state subject to the tuition charge must pay the local school district direct.

Although no contract has as yet been made it is expected that Mr. Bacon will blaze the new highway. He has recently been blazing the North Star trail from Portal to Minot.

THREE EPOCHS IN WOMAN'S LIFE
There are three critical stages in a woman's life when she leaves their mark on her career: the first when she changes from a care-free girl to a woman; the second when she leaves the life of a child and enters the life of a woman; and the third when she enters the life of a woman. Most of the misery which comes to women through ill health dates from one or another of these periods, but women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable remedy and has been very successful in overcoming the ailments which may come to them at these times. It is a natural restorative for such conditions. Nearly a half a century of success attests Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the power and confidence of every far-sighted woman.

DIRT HIGHWAYS ARE EASIEST
Unpaved Country Roads Cause Least Wear on Tires, While Slag Is Most Destructive
The much maligned dirt road finds a champion in a Denver traffic engineer, who asserts that when tires show that the unpaved country road causes the least tire wear. But the road must be in good condition with no ruts to be against the side walls of the tire. When properly dragged, the unpaved country road is found to generate less heat in the tire than any other type of road.
Slag roads were found to be most destructive to tires. The sharp points soon pierce the tread with sharp holes. With the test car's wheels a fraction of an inch out of alignment, the heat caused by the friction of the tire against the road surface is increased. The heat causes the tire to become soft and the sharp points pierce the tread with sharp holes. When properly dragged, the unpaved country road is found to generate less heat in the tire than any other type of road.
Asphalt pavement was found to be very much better than dirt roads. Many of the ruts in a gravel condition were found to be better than slag.

ADVANTAGES OF GOOD ROADS
Means Release to Farmer and City Man From Bondage of Road Discomforts
To both city man and farmer the good road means a release from a bondage of road discomforts. The city man is released from the discomforts of a long drive to the country. The farmer is released from the discomforts of a long drive to the city. The good road means a release from a bondage of road discomforts.

DEMAND FOR GOOD HIGHWAYS
Nothing So Vital to Transportation System and Future of Automotive Power
The demand for good highways is increasing rapidly. The automotive power is becoming more and more important in the transportation system. The good highway is essential for the future of the automotive power.
